BEYOND SOLITAIRE

ABOUT

LIZ DAVIDSON

Beyond Solitaire began as a blog in 2016, then expanded to include a YouTube channel in October of 2017. The channel focuses primarily on solitaire board game reviews and tutorials. In the past year, it has also come to include the Beyond Solitaire podcast, which features guests who have interesting things to say about games, history, and culture.

Beyond Solitaire is a passion project, but I have recently begun to include paid tutorial services. If you are looking to have your game thoroughly explained by a professional teacher, then I might be a match for you! This is particularly true if you have a more complex game that requires careful treatment.

PREVIOUS WORK

TOO MANY BONES GEARLOC GUIDES

My Gearloc guides, hosted on the Chip Theory Games YouTube channel, showcase a number of unique—and often complex—characters.

VOTES FOR WOMEN TUTORIALS

My tutorials, hosted on the Fort Circle Games channel, showcase both the multiplayer and solo modes of Votes for Women.

What kind of tutorial do you need? Together, we can create:

- A series of short videos that explain specific aspects of your game.
- Full digital rulebooks that thoroughly teach all parts of your game.
- Sample gameplay to accompany any kind of teaching video.

Contact me for rates, which are based on game complexity and length of project.
